2. Requests for funding donations or sponsorship are made by the BCAHA President or Conference Chair.
3. Suggestions of possible funding donors or sponsorship opportunities are always welcome from the Host Auxiliary and should be directed to the Conference Chair.

Host Auxiliary Assistance Areas

Theme Suggestions - Each year a different theme is chosen by the board from suggestions from the hosting auxiliaries. We do have a list of themes from previous conferences that can be provided.

Delegates Materials – The hosting auxiliaries usually assemble materials such as community information, promotional material, pens, note pads, list of nearby restaurants, information regarding nearby shops, drug store, drop in clinic, tec. Plus any other goodies they can come up with as well as a bag to hold the materials. (Any expenses would be allocated as decorating expenses.)

Registrations – The hosting auxiliary will be responsible for maintaining the listings of registrations, and a spreadsheet will be provided for this purpose. Details of the lists that will be provided etc. are on a separate sheet. The registration forms sent by the auxiliaries will be directed to the BCAHA office, and copies of these forms will be sent to the conference committee on a weekly basis for input into the spreadsheet. The cheques from the auxiliaries will be processed at the BCAHA office by the Director of Finance and Revenue Development. It is also the responsibility of the hosting auxiliary to produce the Name badges for the conference.

Stuffing – 5 volunteers from the host auxiliary are needed for several hours during the week before the conference (usually on the Wednesday prior) to assemble the delegate's packages and conference badges.

Workshop suggestions – As the hosting auxiliaries have a firsthand knowledge of potential speakers from their area, we rely on the committee to work with the board to arrange for workshop presenters and keynote speakers for the conference, most of whom we find are willing to either donate their services or accept a reduced fee largely because of a developed relationship with the host auxiliary.

Manpower – We will need volunteers from the host auxiliaries to cover shifts for registration of delegates and monitoring the silent auction room.

Entertainment – We do have a small budget to pay for entertainment, if needed. At past conferences we have had entertainment at the Welcome Reception (usually Monday evening) and a speaker or musical entertainment at the banquet. (Budget amount $600 - $800 including SOCAN fees)

Tours – Most delegates arrive on Sunday and as the Meet and Greet reception is held on Sunday evening, if possible, tours to places of local interest which can be arranged by the host auxiliaries and are always appreciated by the delegates, should be scheduled to end by 5:30 or so at the latest.

NOTE: any transportation costs for tours would usually be allocated as an entertainment expense unless the cost is charged out to the delegates as tour costs (with admissions etc.).

Decorations – Planned and handled by the host auxiliaries. There will likely be a budgeted amount of $600 - $800 for decoration costs.

NOTE: In some instances the committee received some monetary donations from businesses. Those funds were used to cover decoration costs plus pay for insurance for donated vans used for the Sunday tours. We have also, at one time, received a donation of buses for the tours.

Signage – Workshop, silent auction room and other signage can be made by the host auxiliaries as part of the decorations if they wish. Signage plans should be discussed with the Conference Chair to avoid duplication and to ensure they are placed in accordance with the rules of the conference centre. In some circumstances, the facility prefers to make and place the signage.

Door Prizes – Usually the hosting auxiliaries arrange for door prizes – merchant donations and possibly some items “Saved” from the thrift shops, but please keep thrift shop items to a minimum. Number of prizes – 15 or so per day? Less is more, as there is only so much time for the draws.

NOTE: Timing and drawing of the prizes is decided by the Conference Chair after discussion with the host auxiliaries.

Raffle Items - We generally have a fund-raising raffle of 4-5 items. The hosting auxiliary usually looks after obtaining raffle items at the same time as they collect door prizes. Obtaining raffle license, buckets, cash floats, etc. are handled by the BCAHA office and Director of Finance and Revenue Development.

Silent Auction – Each auxiliary is asked to donate items to the Silent Auction. The host auxiliary is not obligated to donate to the Silent Auction, but most in the past have donated items and also used some of the larger door prize donations whether for the raffle or as silent auction items. (BCAHA D of F in charge).

50/50 Draw – Ticket sellers – Usually the host auxiliary is asked to obtain volunteers from the community (firefighter, etc.) to sell 50/50 tickets on the Sunday and Tuesday evening events. In past conferences the Area Reps also sell tickets. (Director of Finance and Revenue Development/BCAHA Office will handle license, float, counting money etc.).

Host Auxiliary Expenses – In the past the host auxiliary has paid committee costs for decorations, etc. from their general funds, and then submitted one invoice (with receipts) to BCAHA for reimbursement. BCAHA does not pay gas, mileage, ink or photocopying costs. Please note – If it is not clear whether a proposed expenditure is an allowable expense, the host auxiliary should contact the conference chair to have that expense approved before incurring the expense.

Costume Night – Usually at first evening event – costumes should tie in with conference theme if possible.

Committee Conference Costs - Host Auxiliary and Committee members attending conference sessions must be registered as delegates and pay the same registration fees as other auxiliaries.

Please also note that only registered delegates are entitled to attend workshops, the AGM, All delegates sessions, Town Hall Meeting, etc. even if a member is volunteering that day.

Food Cost Provision – There is a special provision allowing Committee members wishing to attend the Welcome Reception, Banquet and/or Breakfast to only pay food costs to BCAHA for all conference “food events” they will be attending.

Note – Food costs are calculated at actual per person event catering costs plus 12% HST and 15% gratuity.

Procedure – One week prior to conference – Host committee will need to provide the BCAHA office with a list showing names and what food events your members wish to attend. They will also need to arrange for the nametags and add the names to the guest count for catering purposes.

Hotel, catering, invitations to any guests, AGM, conference booklet, program, audio visual equipment rental, 50/50 draw, gaming licenses, exhibitors, etc. and anything else not listed above are duties usually assigned to the BCAHA board members.

5.10 POLICY - MARKETING AND COMMUNICATIONS

Policy:

BCAHA is committed to creating a profile and a public image that is current and innovative in order to support the work of our members, and to remain relevant to healthcare in British Columbia. We commit resources, both time and money to this initiative.

Procedures - Marketing

1. Maintain a professionally developed website with particular focus on the public face (keep all materials for member auxiliaries and in house use under the “for members only” tab).
2. Contract with a person who has the required skills and knowledge to be the website administrator.
3. Ensure that the contractor is consistently provided with accurate and up to date information.
4. Produce a professional report each year, and ensure a wide spread circulation to key stakeholders in British Columbia.
5. Ensure that all member auxiliaries have access to the BCAHA annual report to assist with wide spread circulation. The report also has the benefit of creating member pride.
6. Diligently monitor the use of the BCAHA emblem (and new logo when one is created) to maintain a professional standard. Either the Director of Marketing and Communications, or someone else assigned to this task (E.D., other staff, other director) needs to act as the clearinghouse for all materials created for BCAHA use.
7. Use of words also becomes a part of the brand. Therefore, all materials being created for public circulation need to be cleared through the Director of Marketing and Communications, or delegate.
8. Media appearances and other public presentations are best handled by a team (President, VP, Executive Director, Director of Marketing and Communications). In this way each individual has the support of the others in making statements and getting the story so that it is of the greatest benefit to BCAHA.
9. All directors, and to some degree all member auxiliaries need to seek out and promote opportunities for BCAHA to present publicly.

10. Health Care Auxiliary Day in BC has been proclaimed for May 10 each year. Members need to receive proclamations well in advance and be provided with ideas/suggestions on how to celebrate in each community. BCAHA needs to address the day at the provincial level.

Procedures – Communications

1. The “for members only” section of the website needs to be created and maintained in such a way that material is easy to access and is kept current. The various committees of BCAHA need to be given this responsibility; however the website administrator will need to ensure that an overall standard is maintained. Useless and out of date ideas and materials must be avoided.
2. A handy reference for our members to other useful websites should be developed and maintained on our site. We must recognize that we cannot be up to date and current on all issues. Therefore, it is important that we are making the right referrals at the right time. (I.e., society act, CRA, provincial tax etc.)
3. The current website has the capacity to manage email circulation to specific groups (auxiliary presidents, treasurers, thrift shop managers, youth volunteer coordinators). This feature needs to be explored and promoted. The capacity is there to make the website our hub for all communications.
4. The BCAHA newsletter is undergoing significant changes both in content and circulation method. This publication reflects the BCAHA brand, and also has the potential to become a significant part of BCAHA's member retention strategy. Ensuring that the newsletter producer and the website administrator have the skills for this work is key to the success of this initiative, as is full cooperation and participation of all board members.
5. The directional documents of BCAHA (vision, mission, values, constitution and bylaws, policies and procedures, strategic plan) are essential elements for the association's success. Once these have all been updated, a system of consistent review must be created (likely led each year by the past president). It would be useful to introduce a method of overall board evaluation that included a progress report on the strategic plan.
6. While the primary objective of our conferences is member education, there is a secondary objective of member communication. It may be helpful to develop key messages in advance of these events, as opposed to leaving it to chance that the communications is clear, and gets delivered.

5.11 POLICY - YOUTH ENGAGEMENT

Policy:

BCAHA is committed to promoting the benefits of youth engagement to our member auxiliaries. Youth bring renewed energies to our work, contribute skills that we often lack and create a positive public perception. The young people often become attracted to healthcare careers and then their families become auxiliary supporters as well.

Procedures:

1. Keeping a strong voice on the board of BCAHA is key. This can be accomplished by assigning youth engagement to one of the executive positions. Currently this exists as a function of the Director of Marketing and Communications; however, this could change with the different incumbent's skills and interests.
2. While the history of the Candy Striper has value, volunteer opportunities in healthcare and hospital settings has reduced. Therefore, we need to find other auxiliary programs where young people can volunteer. This work needs to be consistently promoted and explored. Sharing success stories from one auxiliary to another is necessary.
3. Young people need to be given a voice into what they do, how they do it and what they wear. It is incumbent upon BCAHA to provide education and training for all auxiliaries who are trying to learn the management techniques that support this degree of engagement.
4. Youth engagement must be a workshop at conferences, and must also be well presented on the BCAHA website and in the newsletter.
5. A youth conference needs to be held at least every two years and greater ownership of this conference needs to become a part of BCAHA's mandate (although this needs to be carefully done with inclusion from those youth coordinators who have carried the role for many years).
6. Support and promotion of Youth Engagement needs to become a budgeted item in BCAHA's financial plan.
7. Consideration needs to be given to the use of social media as a tool for promoting youth engagement.
8. Recognition of youth through bursaries and other means needs to be promoted and expanded.
