Children's jewellery

- THE CHILDREN'S JEWELLERY REGULATIONS SET OUT SEVERAL REQUIREMENTS FOR CHILDREN'S JEWELLERY. THE FOLLOWING DISCUSSES SOME, BUT NOT ALL, OF THESE REQUIREMENTS. YOU SHOULD THEREFORE CONSULT THE REGULATIONS TO ENSURE THAT ALL THE APPLICABLE REQUIREMENTS ARE MET.
- LEAD IS A SOFT, HEAVY METAL WHICH IS OFTEN USED TO MAKE INEXPENSIVE JEWELLERY. LEAD TASTES SWEET AND A CHILD CAN SUFFER FROM LEAD POISONING IF THEY SUCK, CHEW, OR SWALLOW JEWELLERY CONTAINING LEAD. LEAD IS VERY TOXIC. CADMIUM IS ALSO A TOXIC HEAVY METAL. CHILDREN'S JEWELLERY ITEMS CONTAINING HIGH LEAD OR CADMIUM LEVELS HAVE BEEN FOUND ON THE CANADIAN MARKET.

- Jewellery containing lead or cadmium which has a protective or decorative coating is not safe, since children can easily chew off the coating.
- Jewellery for children under 15 years of age must not contain more than 90 mg/kg of total lead.
- Jewellery for children under 15 years of age must not contain more than 130 mg/kg of total cadmium.
- If you are not sure if a children's jewellery product contains lead or cadmium above the regulated limits, you should not import, advertise or offer it for sale.

For complete information about the requirements for children's jewellery consult the Children's Jewellery Regulations. <https://laws-lois.justice.gc.ca/eng/regulations/SOR-2018-82/index.html>

Children's sleepwear

- The Children's Sleepwear Regulations set out several requirements for children's sleepwear. The following discusses some, but not all, of these requirements. You should therefore consult the Regulations to ensure that all the applicable requirements are met.
- The requirements for children's sleepwear apply to those products up to a children's size 14X. Children's sleepwear must comply with the Regulations which include specific requirements concerning flammability.

- Loose-fitting children's sleepwear includes night gowns, nightshirts, dressing gowns, bathrobes, house coats, robes, pyjamas, and baby doll pyjamas. Loose-fitting sleepwear made of 100% polyester, 100% nylon or polyester/nylon blends are more difficult to ignite and are more likely to comply, whereas loose-fitting children's sleepwear made from cotton, cotton blends or rayon ignite readily and burn rapidly and likely do not meet the flammability requirements.

Only testing can ensure that a fabric complies with the Regulations.

- Check the label to see what materials the product is made from to be sure. If there is no label, it may be better not to sell the product. Tight-fitting children's sleepwear includes polo pyjamas and sleepers with tight cuffs at the end of sleeves and pants and fit close to the body. These styles are less likely to make contact with a fire source, are likely to burn more slowly and can be made from cotton or cotton blends.
- Health Canada recommends that belts, ties or sashes on children's robes be stitched firmly to the centre back of these products. Young children are at risk of strangulation from any type of cord that can be detached from the clothing.

For complete information about the requirements for children's sleepwear consult the Children's Sleepwear Regulations.

- TOY BOXES WITH LIDS ARE REQUIRED TO HAVE ADEQUATE OPENING FOR VENTILATION IN EACH OF TWO OR MORE ADJACENT SIDES TO PREVENT THE SUFFOCATION OF A CHILD WHO MAY BECOME TRAPPED INSIDE. IF THERE IS A LID ON THE TOY BOX, IT SHOULD BE LIGHTWEIGHT AND HAVE GOOD SUPPORTING HINGES

- PLASTIC, RUBBER OR SIMILAR AIR-TIGHT STORAGE BINS THAT ARE LARGE ENOUGH TO ENCLOSE A CHILD CANNOT BE PROMOTED FOR TOY STORAGE

FOR COMPLETE INFORMATION ABOUT THE REQUIREMENTS FOR TOYS CONSULT THE TOYS REGULATIONS

THE TOYS REGULATIONS SET OUT SEVERAL REQUIREMENTS FOR TOYS THE FOLLOWING DISCUSSES SOME, BUT NOT ALL, OF THESE REQUIREMENTS. YOU SHOULD THEREFORE CONSULT THE REGULATIONS TO ENSURE THAT ALL THE APPLICABLE REQUIREMENTS ARE MET

Toys sold in flexible film bags / Toys that emit sound/ Toys With Magnets

- Toys packaged in flexible film bags that have an opening of 35.6 cm (14 in) in circumference or larger, must be labelled with an English and French suffocation warning.

"PLASTIC BAGS CAN BE DANGEROUS. TO AVOID DANGER OF SUFFOCATION, KEEP THIS BAG AWAY FROM BABIES AND CHILDREN.

LES SACS DE PLASTIQUE PEUVENT ÊTRE DANGEREUX. POUR ÉVITER LE DANGER DE SUFFOCATION, NE LAISSEZ PAS CE SAC À LA PORTÉE DES BÉBÉS NI DES ENFANTS."

In addition, the bag must be made from film that is at least 0.019 mm thick, so thin bags such as drying cleaning bags cannot be used.

Toys that emit sound

- Toys that are excessively loud - that is, that exceed 100 dB when measured at a distance that the toy would ordinarily be from the ear of the child who is using it - cannot be sold in Canada. If you have to yell to be heard above the sound of a toy, then it is likely too loud for a child and should not be sold.
- Toys with magnets

Magnetic attraction is a popular play feature in children's toys. Certain magnets, such as those that are small and powerful can pose a serious ingestion hazard to children of all ages. If small powerful magnets are swallowed, they can attract across several layers of intestines and cause serious injuries or death.

In 2018, the Toys Regulations were amended to set out several requirements to protect children from this hazard with magnetic toys. The requirements restrict both the size and the attractive strength of magnetic toys and magnetic components of toys. The restrictions apply to toys intended for children of any age, and they include a series of integrity tests to verify that dangerous magnetic components do not separate from a toy or its components when used. Be aware that small powerful magnets may be found in a wide range of toys including: construction sets, puzzles, action figures and dolls, science kits and board games.
